Miscellaneous Information

On April 25, 2021, security staff of a casino located in Grantville refused to let Dyer enter the casino because he was showing signs of intoxication. Dyer, who had left the casino 15 minutes earlier, told the staff member that he had dropped his driver's license in the casino. Casino staff subsequently learned that table games personnel had Dyer's driver's license because he threw it at a dealer before he left. Security staff eventually gave the license back to him. Dyer then grabbed a security staff member by the shirt and punched him in the chest with the other hand and then left the casino. Members of the Pennsylvania State Police detained Dyer and charged him with Public Drunkenness and Harassment (both summary offenses). He pleaded guilty to both charges. He was permanently evicted from the casino as a result of this incident.
